

UFOs: Demonic Activity & Elaborate Hoaxes Meant to Deceive Mankind

Bro. Michael Dimond

A UFO or unidentified flying object is any flying object or phenomenon that cannot be identified by the observer.¹ Over the last twenty-five years, millions of people have claimed to see UFOs over every major city in the world. Many polls (Roper, Gallup, PBS/Nova) claim that almost 20 million Americans have claimed to see a UFO,² and over 4 million have claimed to have been abducted by aliens.³ Some insurance companies are even selling Alien Abduction Insurance.⁴ People like Jimmy Carter,⁵ Barry Goldwater, and Prince Charles of England have seen UFOs.⁶ Reports of UFO sightings have been statistically proven to be becoming more frequent with the passing of each decade. There are now many universities that offer specialized studies on the subject of UFOs.⁷

The fascination with UFOs is a world-wide phenomenon. This fascination is shown by the large numbers of people who went to see the UFO film, Independence Day, which grossed more in its first week than all other previous movies.⁸ Over 90 percent of UFOs turn out to be IFOs, that is, identified flying objects.⁹ Naturally occurring phenomena like balloons, searchlights, advanced aircraft, comets, bright meteors, ball lighting, twinkling stars,¹⁰ etc., are examples of things claimed to be UFOs. But many other people have definitely seen a phenomenon that cannot be explained naturally. The first part of this book will focus on the UFOs that are truly unidentifiable. It will show that they are not from the material world and are a spiritual phenomenon.

The Absolutely Impossible Flying Maneuvers of UFOs

UFOs have been tracked by scientists traveling at over 25,000 miles per hour.¹¹ UFOs have also made right angle turns at an estimated 15,000 miles per hour.¹² They have made 90 degree turns in mid air¹³ and they have instantly reversed direction while moving at these high speeds. Planes made by humans make sonic booms when they travel at such speeds, but UFOs make no sonic booms. In fact, in most sightings of UFOs, no noise is heard at all.¹⁴ UFOs have sometimes been picked up on radar, and other times they cannot be picked up on radar.¹⁵ UFOs sometimes show up on photographs, but other times they do not.¹⁶ While in flight UFOs frequently change size or shape in front of people,¹⁷ and they appear as strange lights. UFOs also change colors,¹⁸ many times only when accelerating, with virtually every color of the spectrum reported.¹⁹ Sometimes UFOs instantly appear and disappear in front of people and they will pass right through physical objects. People have also seen multiple UFOs merge into one UFO, and one UFO turn into many UFOs. There is no one that can explain, from a scientific standpoint, how it is possible for any material craft to do these things. Many have objected to the idea that UFOs are alien aircrafts precisely because UFOs have performed flying maneuvers that are impossible for any materially constructed craft. They violate the known laws of science.

Physicist James McCampbell, speaking to an academic conference on UFOs in 1975, stated: "... in flight, their startling departures, sudden stops, and right angle turns at high speed require them to be virtually massless."²⁰

Established in 1955, the British journal, Flying Saucer Review, is widely recognized as the leading UFO publication in the world. It's authored by over fifty experts from around the world, who conduct major investigations of UFOs.²¹ Gordon Creighton was the editor of the journal until he died in 2003.²² In 1996, Creighton made the following official position statement on UFOs: "There seems to be no evidence yet that any of these craft or beings originate from outer space. The whole phenomenon involves a mass of features that conflict with modern science, and many researchers now believe that more than one type of being may be involved, some of them originating from outer space and some of them of an 'interdimensional' nature, and consequently possibly from some unknown aspect of our own world..."²³ Many UFO researchers have now abandoned the ETH (extraterrestrial hypothesis) for the IDH (interdimensional hypothesis).²⁴ Creighton also said about UFOs: "I do believe that the great bulk of these phenomena are what is called satanic."²⁵

Charles Bowen is the current editor of the Flying Saucer Review. Speaking about UFOs and their occupants, he said: "I have pondered over the idea that the frightening, spooky creatures described by some witnesses could be some sort of psychic projection. There are noticeable dreamlike qualities about the incidents described in these cases. Is it possible that something from somewhere is coming here and by means incomprehensible to us?"²⁶

To find out more about what UFOs really are, we need to listen to what the world's top experts on UFOs have concluded about the UFO phenomenon.

The Top Experts in the World on the UFO Phenomenon

Dr. Jacques Vallee is a computer scientist and astrophysicist. Vallee has addressed the UN on the subject of UFOs and is widely recognized as the premier expert on the subject. He has done computer analysis on tens of thousands of UFO reports. He has looked for patterns that could be clues to an explanation of UFOs. Vallee has also authored eight books on UFOs and was the real life basis for the character of the French scientist "Claude LaCombe" in the UFO movie "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."²⁷

In May 1955, Vallee saw a UFO flying over his home in France.²⁸ In the mid-1960's, Vallee initially attempted to validate (like many other UFO researchers) the Extraterrestrial Hypothesis or ETH.²⁹ But by 1969, Vallee's conclusions had changed. He publicly stated that the ET Hypothesis ignored too much data.³⁰

Vallee: "... we are dealing with a yet unrecognized level of consciousness, independent of man but closely linked to the earth. For reasons that will become clear, I do not believe any more that UFOs are simply the spacecraft of some race of extraterrestrial visitors."³¹

Vallee: "Consider what these [UFO] sightings have in common. In each case the so-called 'spacecraft' did not disappear by moving away, even at high speed. It simply vanished on the spot, or it slowly faded away... In other cases, UFOs have been reported to enter the ground. I hardly need to point out that this behavior is contrary to what physical objects do, and quite impossible to duplicate with our current spacecraft technology. It is the behavior of an image, or a holographic projection. Yet at other times the objects have left material traces."³²

Vallee: “Most witnesses are not primarily reporting an object or a craft; they are reporting a light, a massive, multicolored, intense, pulsating light, a playful, fascinating, impressive, hypnotic light...”³³

Vallee: “I propose that the UFO we see is, among other things, a device which creates a distortion of the witness’s reality; that it does so for a purpose, which is to project images or fabricated scenes designed to change our belief systems; and that the technology we observe is only the incidental support for a worldwide enterprise of ‘subliminal seduction’... They are helping to create a new form of belief: an expectation of actual contact among large parts of the public. In turn realization of that age-old dream: salvation from above, surrender to the greater power of some wise navigators of the cosmos.”³⁴

Vallee: “Using a single probe the size of a beer keg in orbit a thousand miles above the earth, human technology as it exists today would be able to capture in a few weeks most of the important facts about the planet’s geography, weather, vegetation, and culture. Given the earth’s abundant emission of radio and television programs for the last fifty years, even the deployment of such a space probe might be unnecessary. This is one of the little-recognized facts of the UFO problem that any theory has yet to explain. The theory of random visitation does not explain it. Either the UFOs select their witnesses for psychological or sociological reasons, or they are something entirely different from space vehicles. In either case, their appearances are staged!”³⁵

Vallee: “I believe that when we speak of UFO sightings as instances of space visitations we are looking at the phenomenon on the wrong level. We are not dealing with successive waves of visitations from space. We are dealing with a control system.”³⁶

Vallee, speaking of the UFO phenomenon, said the UFOs “cannot be spacecraft in the ordinary nuts-and-bolts sense. The UFOs are physical manifestations that cannot be understood apart from their psychic and symbolic reality. What we see here is not an alien invasion. It is a spiritual system that acts on humans and uses humans.”³⁷

Vallee: “I think UFOs are perpetrating a deception by presenting their so-called ‘occupants’ as being messengers from outer space...”³⁸

Vallee: “The UFO occupants... are not extraterrestrials. They are the denizens [inhabitants] of another reality.”³⁹

Conclusions on UFOs from Some Other Top Experts

Astronomer Dr. J. Allen Hynek, who died in 1986, was considered one of the top experts in the world on the subject of UFOs. Hynek was a former skeptic who dismissed UFO sightings as something made up by “kooks and crackpots.”⁴⁰ As he continued to study the issue, his view changed. Dr. Hynek eventually started the Center for UFO Studies (CUFOS) with Dr. Jacques Vallee. Hynek also headed the U.S. satellite optical tracking program for many years.⁴¹ He was the author of many technical textbooks on astrophysics and several books on UFOs. When Hynek investigated UFOs, he used the services of accomplished and skilled scientists with a scientific approach to all the data. Hynek served for over twenty years as the Air Force’s scientific expert on UFOs.⁴² He studied thousands of reports, and interrogated hundreds of witnesses to UFO experiences.⁴³ Hynek’s conclusions on UFOs were accurately summed up this way: “Hynek submitted that perhaps UFOs were part of a parallel reality, slipping in and out of sequence with our own. This was a hypothesis that obviously pained him as an empirical scientist. Yet after 30 years of interviewing witnesses and investigating sighting reports... no other hypothesis seemed to make sense to him.”⁴⁴ Hynek repeated this view when he was interviewed by Newsweek.⁴⁵

Speaking about UFOs, Dr. Hynek said the following: “One of the most intriguing aspects of UFO sightings is their apparent isolation in space and time. Sightings are usually made in one place at a time and last for short periods, sometimes appearing out of nowhere. This is much more suggestive of a parallel reality than, let’s say, visits from some far away planet, in which case, we might expect them to stick around for a while.”⁴⁶

Dr. Hynek: “Another peculiarity is the alleged ability of certain UFOs to dematerialize... There are quite a few reported instances where two distinctly different UFOs hovering in a clear sky will converge and eventually merge into one object...”⁴⁷

Dr. Hynek: “Many UFO reports seem to pertain more to accounts of ‘poltergeists’ (cases where objects fly around the room and strange sounds are heard) and other types of ‘psychic’ manifestations than to actual solid items of nuts and bolts hardware. That is one of the reasons why I cannot accept the obvious explanation of UFOs as visitors from outer space.”⁴⁸

Dr. Hynek and Dr. Vallee describe this strange behavior of UFOs in their book, The Edge of Reality: “If UFOs are, indeed, somebody else’s ‘nuts and bolts hardware,’ then we must still explain how such tangible hardware can change shape before our eyes, vanish ... seemingly melt away in front of us, or apparently ‘materialize’ mysteriously before us without apparent detection by persons nearby or in neighboring towns. We must wonder, too, where UFOs are ‘hiding’ when not manifesting themselves to human eyes.”⁴⁹ Dr. Hynek concluded about UFOs: “The UFO phenomenon is the outstanding strange dilemma of our age. We don’t know what they are.”⁵⁰

Another one of the top living experts in the world on UFOs is John Keel.⁵¹ Keel began to investigate UFOs on a full time basis in early 1966. During just one four-year period of time, Keel interviewed thousands of people who claimed to see UFOs in more than twenty U.S. states. He reviewed more than 2,000 books, in addition to thousands of newspapers, magazines, and newsletters.⁵² Initially, like Dr. Vallee, Keel was hopeful that he could validate the ET visitation hypothesis, but abandoned that hypothesis after about one year investigating UFOs.⁵³ Keel has authored many books on UFOs. He said: “The statistical data that I have extricated... indicate that flying saucers [UFOs] are not stable machines requiring fuel, maintenance and logistical support. They are, in all probability, transmogrifications of energy and do not exist in the same way that this book exists. They are not permanent constructions of matter.”⁵⁴

Keel: “Sometimes they [UFOs] reportedly turn a brilliant red and vanish. Other times they shift through all of the colors of the spectrum, turn white, and fly off into the night sky until they look like just another star.”⁵⁵

Keel: “There are countless sightings of objects that changed size and shape in front of the viewers or split into several smaller objects, each going off in a different direction. In some cases, this process was reversed, with several small lights converging together to form a single large one, which then went dashing off. Over and over again, witnesses have told me in hushed tones, ‘You know, I don’t think that thing I saw was mechanical at all. I got the distinct impression that it was alive.”⁵⁶

Keel: “The UFOs do not seem to exist as tangible, manufactured objects. They do not conform to the accepted natural laws of our environment... The UFO manifestations seem to be, by and large, merely minor variations of the age-old demonological phenomenon.”⁵⁷

Keel: “Many flying saucers seem to be nothing more than a disguise for some hidden phenomenon. They are like Trojan horses descending into our forests and farm fields, promising salvation and offering us the splendor of some great supercivilization in the sky.”⁵⁸

Keel, speaking about the UFO flying “aircraft”: “Our UFO catalog now contains flying cubes, triangles, hexagons, doughnuts, spheres, objects shaped like giant metal insects and transparent flying jellyfish. We’ve got UFOs with wheels, with wings, with antennas, with pointed domes, flat domes, no domes at all. We’ve got objects of every color of the spectrum. There have been giant, multi-windowed ‘cigars’ spitting blue fire from their tails... We have just about everything except a basic assembly-line model... Some tremendous unknown civilization is exerting an all-out effort to manufacture thousands of different types of UFOs and is sending all of them to our planet....”⁵⁹

Keel, speaking about the descriptions made by people who have claimed to have been abducted by aliens from the UFOs, said: “The reported UFO entities are also a mixed bag, not only in size but in general appearance. There have been UFOonauts [aliens] with pupil-less eyes, glowing eyes, eyes as big as saucers, tiny beady eyes, wraparound slit-eyes, cat-like eyes, and even no eyes at all. There have been noseless entities and mouthless entities. Ears have covered a wide range – from being pointed to being elephant-like.”⁶⁰

Does this make any sense? If some alien civilization were visiting or invading our world, their vehicles and personal appearance would look basically the same. There wouldn’t be vast differences among the saucers and the appearances of the aliens.

Could Aliens from Another Galaxy Travel to Earth?

According to Einstein's theory of special relativity, the speed of light is the maximum speed possible.⁶¹ If someone were travelling at the speed of light, they would be travelling at the incredible speed of 186,000 miles per second. Travelling at this speed you could circle the earth seven times in just one second. If you took off from earth, you would pass the moon in two seconds.⁶²

If aliens came from another galaxy, they would have to travel from a galaxy at least two million light years away. Even if they travelled at the speed of light (186,000 miles per second), it would take them two million years to get to earth. But what if the UFOs travelled from some distant star in our own galaxy? If these space travelers were to travel one million miles per day from the closest star system (alpha centuria) – which is more than twenty-five trillion miles from the earth – it would still take them 70,000 years to arrive at earth.

Some estimates indicate that a space ship carrying ten people, and travelling five light years to and from a nearby star system at almost the speed of light, would use up 500,000 times the total amount of energy consumed in the US in one year.⁶³ Also, an almost equal amount of energy would be consumed just in slowing the aircraft from the incredible speed at which it was travelling. For larger crafts, such as the city-sized spaceships shown in the UFO movie Independence Day, the required energy needed would be even more staggering.⁶⁴ Scientists like Donald Menzel rejected ETs visiting earth because even the nearest stars are too far away for interstellar travel to be possible.⁶⁵ But there are other problems with space travel. It has been estimated that there are 100,000 dust particles per cubic kilometer of space. Travelling at the speed of light (186,000 miles per second), an impact with even one of these tiny dust particles would destroy a spaceship. At one-tenth the speed of light, the impact would be equal to an explosion of almost ten tons of TNT.⁶⁶ Based on these scientific facts alone, without even considering all of the others about the true nature of UFOs, space travel by some alien craft is extremely unlikely.

Is Life Sustainable in Outer Space?

The conditions outside Earth are far more destructive than most people think. For example, prolonged exposure to the cosmic rays in space can be fatal.⁶⁷ There are also poisonous gases, deadly radiation, gigantic explosions, extreme gravitational forces, and the lack of proper atmospheres and chemical elements for life to exist. Just the temperature extremes in outer space would make almost any form of life either too incredibly hot or so cold it would be entirely rigid, brittle and dead.⁶⁸

Dr. Vallee held that, based upon the descriptions of many people who claimed to have been abducted by aliens from UFOs, their bodies could never sustain the rigors of space travel. Vallee stated: “the humanoid body structure of the alleged ‘aliens’ is not likely to have originated on another planet and is not biologically adapted to space travel.”⁶⁹ Vallee listed this as one of the main reasons that UFOs were not ETs. Also, how do the “aliens” in UFOs breathe and live in our Earth’s air conditions without the aid of respiratory devices?⁷⁰

The DVD *Creation and Miracles, Past and Present*⁷¹ shows that there is no scientific evidence for the theory of evolution. Nor is there any such evidence in the Bible. But a large number of astronomers believe that life evolved on earth, and therefore (according to them) it must also have evolved on other planets in space. If this were true, many alien races on other planets, which have been around a lot longer than we have, should exist. Some of them would be much more technologically advanced than we are. And if someone believed that somehow advanced aliens could reach us with aircraft, these older and more advanced beings probably would have already colonized our solar system, at least with robots.⁷²

While working at the Los Alamos, New Mexico nuclear facility in 1950, pioneer of atomic energy and Nobel Prize winner Enrico Fermi asked the following question: “Are we the only technologically advanced civilization in the universe, and if we are not, then where are they? Why haven’t we seen any traces of extraterrestrial life such as probes or transmissions?”⁷³ If some intelligent aircraft couldn’t reach our solar system with an advanced aircraft, they would at least send us an intelligent radio signal.

Has any Signal of Intelligent Life Come from Outer Space?

Around the globe, SETI (Search for Extra Terrestrial Intelligence) researchers have searched outer space waiting for signals from intelligent beings. They have listened on thousands of frequencies over the years. Nothing indicating intelligent life has ever been heard.⁷⁴ In fact, all radio astronomers will admit that they have never received any intelligent signal from outer space.⁷⁵ After an interview with SETI's senior astronomer, Seth Shostak, National Geographic magazine stated: “He and his colleagues have never found proof anyone... or anything... ‘up there’ is trying to make contact.”⁷⁶

The Government of the U.S. has spent millions of tax dollars attempting to contact aliens. In the 1980s and 1990s astronomers conducted the largest search for ET life through the META and BETA programs. They simultaneously scanned millions of radio frequencies for any signs of intelligent communications, with no positive results.⁷⁷

Moreover, the official website for NASA states the following about UFOs: “The U.S. Air Force (USAF) and NASA have had intermittent, independent investigations on the possibility of alien life on other planets; however, none of these has produced factual evidence that life exists on other planets, nor that UFOs are related to aliens.”⁷⁸

Dr. Edward Condon was a physicist who led Colorado University's Air Force-financed two-year study of UFOs. The final report of this study was published in January of 1969. In a speech in April 1969, Condon said: “Some UFOs may be such [ET] visitors, it may be postulated, and some writers go so far as to say that they actually are. To discover clear, unambiguous evidence on this point would be a scientific discovery of the first magnitude, one which I would be quite happy to make. We found no such evidence, and so state in our report...”⁷⁹

A Few Major UFO Sightings Throughout History

One of the earliest descriptions of a UFO was by the ancient Egyptians in approximately 1,500 BC. The Egyptians described seeing flying discs. They also noted a foul odor that emitted from the spacecraft.⁸⁰

The deceased satanist Aleister Crowley, who described himself as the beast 666, wrote “how to” guides on magic and contacting angels.

“Crowley was in contact with higher intelligences while writing The Book of the Law in Cairo, Egypt in 1904 at the behest of a being called Aiwass... It was Crowley’s goal that through contact with non-human intelligent beings [demons or aliens] to bring to fruition the New Age...”⁸¹

Crowley claims to have contacted an alien intelligence and he made a drawing of what it looked like in 1918. Crowley said the being was named Lam. Crowley included the picture of Lam in his “Dead Souls Exhibition” held in Greenwich Village, NY, in 1919.⁸² Crowley’s drawing of Lam bears an incredible resemblance to the common visual conception of the “Gray ET.” The Gray Aliens are the most common alien claimed to have been seen by abductees of ETs. The Grays emit a foul odor and sometimes appear naked to abductees.⁸³

On the night of October 25, 1973, fifteen people, including a young farmer from Pennsylvania named Steven Pulaski, saw a bright red ball hovering over a field nearby. Steven took his rifle and went out to investigate. As the ball descended, its color changed from red to bright white. Screaming sounds could be heard nearby. Two creatures then appeared. They had greenish-yellow eyes and a burning rubber smell was around them. Steven got the sense that the creatures were not friendly, and fired a warning shot over their heads. The creatures continued approaching, so Steven fired directly at them. The creatures and the glowing object then instantly disappeared from the field.

Other witnesses also heard the strange noises from the woods and noticed the creatures. A state trooper and UFO researchers were then called in to investigate. Upon arrival, the people there said that Steven had been violently flailing his arms and growling like an animal. Steven’s own dog ran toward him, and Steven attacked his dog. Steven then made prophecies of doom in a mocking tone of voice, accompanied by laughter. Steven then collapsed and, after a short time, came to his senses. The group of people present during these events commented on the nauseating sulfur-like odor that was present.⁸⁴ This odor is a characteristic of many UFO incidents. It should be noted that cases of demonic possession are also frequently characterized by horrible smells, including sulfur-like odors.

In addition to the people who have claimed to see UFOs, there are others who have claimed to have been abducted by the “aliens” that they believe are flying in the UFOs.

Whitley Strieber

Whitley Strieber claims to have had real experiences of abduction by alien beings “on a non-physical level”⁸⁵ on more than one occasion. He wrote of some of his experiences in his bestselling books, Communion and Transformation.

Whitley Strieber: “I would say I was assaulted by something from the unknown, rather than possessed by it. I hope I was never possessed by it. Although there are those who would disagree with me... After what happened to me (the communion experience) I decided it might be a good idea to accept the idea of the devil just in case that’s what I saw.”⁸⁶ Strieber described this experience when he claims he was “transported back in time” and described one of the beings as “what seemed almost to be a demon with a narrow face and dark, slanted eyes.”⁸⁷

Strieber: “Terrible fears raced through me: They were predators and they were going to eat our souls; they were demons and they were going to drag me off to hell.”⁸⁸

Strieber: “And before the great power of the visitors, what would their counsel have gained me? I was alone with this and at that moment I was in hell.”⁸⁹

Strieber: “... I worried that they would come and steal me away. Or perhaps they would kill me and eat my soul.”⁹⁰

Strieber: “Increasingly I felt as if I were entering a struggle that might be even more than life or death. It might be a struggle for my soul, my essence, or whatever part of me might have reference to the eternal. There are worse things than death, I suspected... So far the word demon had never been spoken among the scientists and doctors who were working with me. And why should it have been? We were beyond such things. We were a group of atheists and agnostics, far too sophisticated to be concerned with such archaic ideas as demons and angels... Alone at night I worried about the legendary cunning of demons... At the very least, I was going stark, raving mad.”⁹¹

Strieber: “Why were my visitors so secretive, hiding themselves behind my consciousness? I could only conclude that they were using me and did not want me to know why... What if they were dangerous? Then I was terribly dangerous because I was playing a role in acclimatizing people to them.”⁹²

Strieber: “Of course they were demons. They had to be. And they were here and I couldn’t get away...”⁹³

Strieber: “... and [I] felt my soul being carried away by a triumphant spiritual predator... I wondered if I might not be in the grip of demons, if they were not making me suffer for their own purposes, or simply for their enjoyment.”⁹⁴ Strieber said he could smell the presence of the “aliens” and they smelled like sulfur.⁹⁵

Common Abduction Experiences & Medical Examinations Conducted by “Aliens” on Abductees

Reports of alien abductions have skyrocketed since the late 1980s. Dr. John Mack, Harvard psychiatrist, has stated that he thinks four to five million Americans believe they have been abducted by aliens.⁹⁶

Here is a brief description of some of the things that have happened to people who have claimed to have been abducted by aliens from UFOs: burns, medical experiments, mutilations, mustard gas smells, grotesque appearances, false prophecies, blatant lies, and occultic messages.⁹⁷

Other people who have claimed encounters with aliens have said they experienced things like headaches, dizziness, nausea, confusion, helplessness, despair, and various pains during the encounter. Some abductees have even died or committed suicide after being contacted by UFOs or their occupants.⁹⁸ Animals very frequently have given the impression of being “spooked” just before and during UFO sightings.⁹⁹ Sometimes animals have been frightened to the extent of injuring themselves in their fright. Inanimate objects, most commonly vehicles and their engines, were disabled, and the headlights died or were dimmed.¹⁰⁰ The radios would also cut out or exhibit uncommon static. In such cases, the vehicles returned back to normal operation after the UFO departed from the scene.¹⁰¹

These “aliens” are demons and bear the marks of demons. Here are more of the things that happened to abductees after they had contact with these aliens. The aliens altered the perception of their surroundings. Aliens would control what the abductees were seeing. They appeared under different forms and shapes. The aliens passed through walls and windows, and sometimes materialized and dematerialized directly in front of them. Aliens sometimes put marks or scars on the bodies of abductees. These marks have included bruises, cuts, single and multiple punctures, three and four-fingered claw marks, and triangles of every sort.

Speaking about abductions, Joe Jordan, director for the mutual UFO network, said: “The similarity between the [UFO] abduction experience and demonic possession is very, very close.”¹⁰²

Abductees have also reported being scoffed at, jeered at, and threatened by their alien captors. Some said they were subjected to different kinds of medical experiments and examinations. Typically, special attention was given to the genital area¹⁰³ and some claimed painful genital and anal probes were performed.¹⁰⁴ Dr. John Miller reported that when abductees asked the aliens why invasive and often humiliating medical procedures were being performed, the aliens would often respond with a statement like, “we have a right to do this.”¹⁰⁵ Abductees have been threatened that very bad things would happen to them if they didn’t co-operate with their alien captors.¹⁰⁶ The medical examinations were performed by the aliens against or irrespective of the will of the abductee. These examinations often focused on sex and reproductive biology.¹⁰⁷ Some abductees have claimed that the aliens have also “forced” their human abductees to have sexual contact or intercourse.¹⁰⁸ Sometimes the aliens have spoken to the abductees. Generally, the “aliens” questioned the abductees on their sexual practices or about life on earth.¹⁰⁹

Science writer Jim Schnabel has tied modern-day alien abduction story narratives to stories of 16th-17th century demonic possession and witchcraft cases, some current third-world spirit possession syndromes, and Satanic Ritual Abuse and sexual abuse claims that mesmerized many American psychiatrists in the 1980s and 1990s.¹¹⁰

Gwen Dean, a California-based therapist, noted forty-four parallels between Satanic Ritual Abuse (SRA) and alien abductions. Both became widespread in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Victims of both use hypnosis to recover suppressed or lost memory. Events and narratives explained by SRA victims and “alien” abductees feature many similarities. These similarities include how the alien examination table is similar to the satanic altar, and how both phenomena focus on rape, sexuality, and breeding.¹¹¹

Astronomer Carl Sagan also pointed out that the modern alien abduction experience is remarkably similar to common stories of demonic possession throughout history. Speaking of the similarities, Sagan said: “... most of the central elements of the alien abduction account are present, including sexually obsessive non-humans who live in the sky, walk through walls, communicate telepathically, and perform breeding experiments on the human species.”¹¹²

If the alleged aliens have super-advanced technology, why would they need to repeatedly perform crude medical experiments on person after person to discover what they need to find out?

Dr. Jacques Vallee: “The ‘medical examination’ to which abductees are said to be subjected, often accompanied by sadistic sexual manipulation, is reminiscent of the medieval tales of encounters with demons. It makes no sense in a sophisticated or technical or biological framework: any intelligent being equipped with the scientific marvels that UFOs possess would be in a position to achieve any of these alleged scientific objectives in a shorter time and with fewer risks.”¹¹³

Vallee: “... abductees of both sexes have described having intercourse with the aliens.”¹¹⁴

Vallee: “I pointed out in Invisible College that the structure of abduction stories was identical to that of occult initiation rituals.”¹¹⁵

Vallee: “An equally impressive parallel could be made between UFO occupants and the popular conception of demons...”¹¹⁶

Vallee: “The belief pattern that has been created around the UFO abductions is reminiscent of medieval theories of abduction by demons, pacts with Satan... complete with the Mark of the Devil on the body of the witch. As French sociologist Pierre Lagrange has pointed out to me, the only missing element is the familiar – the black cat or the owl that used to accompany the witches!”¹¹⁷

Scientist Dr. Pierre Guerin of the Paris Astrophysical Institute¹¹⁸ said: “UFO behavior is more akin to magic than to physics as we know it... the modern UFOnuts [aliens] and the demons of past days are probably identical.”¹¹⁹

Psychologist Elizabeth Hillstrom has pointed out that a growing number of academics support the conclusion that aliens are synonymous with historical demons.¹²⁰

Speaking of the ancient study of demonic possession, John Keel said: “Thousands of books have been written on the subject [demonic possession]... The manifestations and occurrences described in this imposing literature are similar, if not entirely identical, to the UFO phenomenon itself. Victims of demonomania (possession) suffer the very same medical and emotional symptoms as the UFO contactees.”¹²¹

Hypnosis Brings Out the Detailed Stories of UFO Abductions

Most stories of UFO “abductions” are only recalled under hypnosis. Hypnosis puts a person into an altered state of consciousness. It puts a person in a highly suggestible state. For example, the hypnotist Kreskin proved this in an experiment with a group of fourteen people. After he put them under hypnosis, they were told (after being taken outside) that a UFO was in the sky, and everyone in the group claimed to see a UFO. The hypnotist then took them out of the hypnosis, got them in front of a TV camera, and asked them: “Have you ever seen a UFO?” They answered: “No.” Yet, they just claimed they had seen one moments before.¹²² This proves that a person can be made to believe that he saw a UFO if he has been hypnotized. Numerous studies have demonstrated that hypnotic regression can cause memories of events that never happened;¹²³ these aid in exaggerations that are stated as facts.¹²⁴

Dr. Martin Orne is one of the leading experts on hypnosis and is a former president of the International Society of Hypnosis. Orne has cited experiments conducted as far back as 1961 which demonstrated that “it is possible for even deeply hypnotized subjects to willfully lie” and “it is possible for an individual to feign hypnosis and deceive even highly experienced hypnotists... We should keep in mind that psychologists and psychiatrists are not particularly adept at recognizing deception... the average hotel credit manager is considerably more adept at recognizing deception than we are.”¹²⁵ Orne went on to say that “... the clinician’s belief in the historical accuracy of the memories brought forth under hypnosis is likely to be erroneous.”¹²⁶

Hypnosis is practiced by witchdoctors and yogis and is certainly an unscientific process.¹²⁷ Under hypnosis a person can also come under demonic activity or possession. TM (Transcendental Meditation) is a practice in which a person is put into a hypnotic trance. Ufologist Don Elkins said: “I have found that some people can achieve the [UFO] contact phenomenon simply by being hypnotized...”¹²⁸

Considering the examples above, the fact that most UFO abduction experiences are usually never fully revealed by UFO “abductees” until the abductees are put under hypnosis is important. As has been proven, just because a story is told under hypnosis doesn’t mean at all that the story is true and that the experiences were real. For example, “there was a criminal case... in which a man was convicted of murdering his wife on the basis of testimony given by his son under hypnosis. Some time then passed, and the wife turned up alive and healthy.”¹²⁹

The Famous Betty & Barney Hill Abduction

One night Betty Hill (a believer in UFOs) was driving home, and she believed that she and her husband were being followed by a bright, star-like object. Sometime after this event, Betty had a nightmare for four nights in which she and her husband were taken aboard a flying saucer.¹³⁰ Betty was convinced she had been abducted by aliens, but Barney wasn’t so sure. The Hills decided to undergo hypnosis so that they would better “recall” what might have happened or what this meant. Under hypnosis, the Hills gave details concerning what they believed had happened to them. Betty and Barney disagreed on the appearance of the aliens.¹³¹ Betty said that the aliens spoke to her in English with a foreign accent, while Barney’s recollection contradicted that assertion.¹³² Under hypnosis, Betty’s description of the short men, whom she claimed to see in the UFO encounter, was different from how she described them from her dreams. Barney’s hypnotic sessions “were often quite emotional, punctuated with angry outbursts, expressions of fear, and episodes of hysterical crying.” Betty later claimed to see UFOs a number of times after her original “abduction” and became a celebrity in the UFO community.¹³³

The Abduction Experience

Most of the abductees have reported being taken from their bedroom right before falling asleep. Typically, at the beginning of the abduction experience, the abductee reports paralysis, the freezing or slowing of time, or seeing a bright light, and the appearance of humanoid figures.¹³⁴ This experience is not an abduction, but is in reality a visitation by a demon.

Bud Hopkins has written many books on UFOs. He is probably the foremost expert in the world on UFO abduction cases. He stated: “Now we have come to the conclusion that [alien] abduction – their involvement with human beings – is the center of the entire UFO phenomenon... Actually, when people have UFO sightings, it is very possible that what they are seeing is something [an “alien”] on its way to or from an abduction of somebody. They are not just flying around up there; they are interested very profoundly in human beings... These experiences sound crazy; it sounds impossible. It is impossible, according to our physics. But we often use hypnosis to flesh out all the recollections.”¹³⁵

Bud Hopkins: “One thing that has given credence to the phenomenon of UFO Abductions, aka ‘Close Encounters of the Third Kind,’ is the fact that many of the victims don’t remember their experiences until they are hypnotically regressed to the time when the incident occurred. That is, the victim only consciously remembers, at most, a UFO sighting. But he or she has symptoms, often including time that cannot be accounted for, which cause the victim to seek professional help, resulting in a hypnosis session. The hypnotist puts the victim in a trance and tells him or her to return to the time of the event. Then the hypnotist asks the victim questions about what happened, and the victim tells a story about an abduction.”¹³⁶ Some abductees under hypnosis will relate their event calmly, while others may cry in apparent horror, shout angrily, tremble with fear, or beg pathetically for the event to stop.¹³⁷ Bud Hopkins has also claimed that a person could be a UFO abduction victim without even remembering having seen a UFO or having been in a flying saucer.¹³⁸

Dr. Leo Spinkle is a scientist who conducted a five-year study of 82 people who reported UFO experiences. Most of them claimed to be able to re-live the experiences they had through hypnosis, and all suffered severe psychological disturbances afterwards.¹³⁹

UFO expert John Keel stated: “Millions of people have been affected at least temporarily by UFO contact; thousands have gone insane and ended up in mental institutions after their experiences with these things began.”¹⁴⁰

Surveys have also confirmed that a vast majority of abductees have shown an interest in the New Age movement and Eastern religions. Many abductees have also claimed to have past involvement with astrology, astral projection, witchcraft, Ouija boards, and channeling.¹⁴¹ This supports the argument that UFO phenomena are a result of demonic activity.

Most people who have claimed to have been abducted by aliens are almost always totally changed after the abduction. Their view of the world is changed and many develop a deep interest in the occult and paranormal or mystical activities.¹⁴² UFO researcher Trevor James said: “A working knowledge of occult science... is indispensable to UFO investigations.”¹⁴³

Many believers in aliens think that by allowing themselves to be put into a hypnotic trance they can be used as a channeling device through which the alien can speak through them or to them. Many times the person who is used as a channeling device is called a “walk-in.”¹⁴⁴

Ruth Montgomery is a New Ager and a famous “automatic” writer who has claimed to receive some messages from “aliens.” Ruth Montgomery says this about walk-ins: “A walk-in is a high-minded entity that is permitted to take over the body of another human being who wishes to depart.”¹⁴⁵ Walk-ins are actually what the Bible teaches is the reality of demonic possession. Many UFO believers have invited alien entities to take over their bodies. They say their goal is to usher in a new age. It is claimed by many New Agers that these walk-ins are very highly evolved entities that are seeking embodiment inside of a human being.¹⁴⁶ Also, interviews done with ex-Satanists and Wiccans indicate a high level of contact with various alien types, especially during coven meetings and holiday rituals.¹⁴⁷ 1 Timothy 4:1 says: “The spirit clearly says that in the last times some will abandon the faith and follow deceiving spirits and things taught by demons.”

In 1969, the United States Printing Office published a 400-page document authored by Lynn Catoe called UFOs and Related Subjects, an Annotated Bibliography. Catoe was senior bibliographer for the Library of Congress. Catoe read over one thousand books, articles, and other literature during her investigation of UFOs.¹⁴⁸ Catoe gave a general conclusion of her findings in the preface of her bibliography: “A large part of the available UFO literature is closely linked with mysticism and the metaphysical. It deals with subjects like mental telepathy, automatic writing and invisible entities as well as phenomena like poltergeist manifestations and possession. Many of the UFO reports now being published in the popular press recount alleged incidents that are strikingly similar to demonic possession and psychic phenomenon that have long been known to theologians and parapsychologists.”¹⁴⁹ Catoe’s document was compiled for the United States Air Force and is currently in the Library of Congress.

The Aliens’ Messages to UFO Abductees

If you went to a bookstore to find a book on UFOs, you would probably find the book in the New Age/Occult section, not the science section.¹⁵⁰ The belief in UFO contact through visits and communication with aliens is a part of the New Age philosophy.

Most of the abductions happen at night time, and the person then wakes up. In their messages, the aliens have said the Bible is outdated or false, and that Jesus Christ is not God. The aliens say that we need to unite into a global religion and government.¹⁵¹ These aliens have also made false prophecies, promoted a false Jesus, and attempted to explain that sin doesn’t exist. In their messages, the aliens say that they are our creators, but we can also evolve into gods. In some messages they say that everyone is God.¹⁵² This is simply the original temptation from the Devil in the Garden of Eden. “For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil” (Genesis 3:5).

Also interesting is that certain aliens have warned of a time of tribulation and disasters which will occur in the near future. These predictions bear a close resemblance to certain predictions in the Bible. Their goal is to increase the credibility of their own message by incorporating elements of well known and true prophecies.

Robert Prentiss (a former California policeman) and his wife claimed to see a multitude of UFOs. The UFOs appeared in a variety of different colors and shapes over a period of weeks. Prentiss said: “During the weeks of tantalizing sightings, I became totally obsessed with the UFOs, convinced that something great was about to happen. I abandoned my daily Bible reading and turned my back on God.”¹⁵³

One reason that many people are so interested in UFOs is that they hope for an alien salvation. They hope that we might soon make contact with some advanced race of people out there which has discovered the secrets of how to escape death. For many, following UFOs has become a substitute religion. Whitley Strieber remarked: “The only thing now needed to make the UFO myth a new religion of remarkable scope and force is a single undeniable sighting.”¹⁵⁴

Common Sense Questions About UFOs

If the aliens are all around us, why is it that no one has ever seen them getting out of their spacecrafts to eat or drink anything? We don't see them landing to take some food and water back to their spacecraft. If the “aliens” really wanted to make contact with us, why would they land in remote areas and make personal contact with just a few people? Why wouldn't the aliens land in a major city and appear in front of huge crowds of people? How come no one has found even one UFO landing area or base when there are so many in the air “flying around”?

Why haven't they landed and taken us over? If their intelligence and technology are more advanced than ours, they would have probably taken us over a long time ago. Or why would aliens have to endlessly observe our activity? If these aliens are as advanced as some people think, for them to just keep observing us for centuries or decades would be a complete waste of time and utterly stupid. Besides, the aliens would have detection devices that would have told them everything they needed to know a long time ago. If these super-advanced aliens are material beings, how could they instantly disappear and pass through walls and the ground, as they are said to do?

Numerous people have claimed to have been contacted by aliens and even taken aboard their spacecrafts. Yet no one has ever recovered a spacecraft, or the undisputed fragments of a spacecraft. A UFO skeptic who has spent 28 years investigating UFO cases put it this way: "... why is it that not one person who claims to have been aboard a flying saucer has ever brought back a paper clip or cigarette lighter or some other souvenir?"¹⁵⁵

No one has ever recovered even one alien, or even one piece of wreckage from an alien craft. Another skeptic of aliens said: "One would think that if aliens actually desired to make contact, that we would have at least one rock-solid, irrefutable close encounter of the third kind, complete with credible eyewitnesses and proof to substantiate it beyond question, before the military could seal off the area and deny everything."¹⁵⁶ The fact is that there has never been even one undeniable encounter with an alien that has ever been even reasonably verified. The reason for this is that there are no aliens. It's all a highly sophisticated demonic deception. All these facts prove that UFOs and "aliens" are a spiritual phenomenon, not a material phenomenon. They come from another dimension, the spirit world right around us. UFOs are indeed false apparitions produced by Satan, the "prince of the power of the air" (Ephesians 2:2).

Is It Theologically Possible for Other Alien Races to Exist in Addition to the Human Race?

The Bible doesn't mention ETs. In Romans 5:12, it states: "through one man [Adam] sin entered the world." The original Greek word for world is kosmos, which is usually translated to mean the entire universe. Also, Romans 8:22 says: "the whole creation groans and suffers" as a result of Adam's sin. This would mean that alien beings in outer space which didn't descend from Adam, would still suffer because of his original sin, which makes no sense. Jesus died once on planet Earth to save the sons of Adam, and He will not die again (Romans 6:9-10; 1 Peter 3:18).

Biblical Verses on the Powers of Angels & Fallen Angels

In the Bible, we see many supernatural objects described as wheels, pillars, thrones, chariots, lights and fire, balls of fire, flaming chariots, spinning objects, dark objects and shining clouds. These descriptions bear a striking resemblance to modern UFOs. These objects in the Bible have been described doing things such as flying, hovering, ascending, and descending.

In Exodus chapters 7 & 8, we see that God allowed the Devil to imitate some of God's wonders in order to deceive people. The Devil was allowed to cause physical changes to material things.

Angels are very powerful spiritual beings that can:

- 1) Interact with people and even kill them
(Genesis 16:9; Genesis 19:15; 1 Chronicles 21:15; John 20:12)
- 2) Appear as normal human beings, undetected by people
(Genesis 19:1-17; Hebrews 13:2)
- 3) Appear as bright, shining beings that terrify those who see them (Matthew 28:2-5)
- 4) Appear in people's dreams (Matthew 1:20-24)
- 5) Appear to animals, but invisible to humans (Numbers 22:21-27)

Angels can take on many different forms and shapes. It would make sense, therefore, that if demons are fallen angels, they possess many of the same abilities which the faithful and good angels described in the Bible possess. Many people who say they have encountered aliens have described a reptilian likeness to their appearance. It's very interesting that when Satan appeared to Eve in the Garden of Eden, he appeared in the form of a snake (a reptile). A snake may be the first thing that comes to a person's mind when you hear the word reptile.

You now have seen many facts which demonstrate that UFOs are demons. UFOs are Satan's trap for people: to convince us that there are aliens who are advanced races of beings who are watching us, visiting us, and with us. UFOs are Satan's trick that there are aliens who are about to make first contact or take us over soon. UFOs are spiritual materializations orchestrated by the Devil. UFOs are a monumental deception with the goal of robbing or corrupting faith in the one true God, Jesus Christ. UFOs are simply a massive demonic deception right from the pit of Hell.

PART 2: UFO HOAXES

The Travis Walton “Alien Abduction”

The Travis Walton abduction story is arguably the most famous UFO abduction story in history. Therefore, it needs to be covered in some detail. Besides numerous articles, there are books, videos and a major motion picture which are based on the Walton abduction. Phillip Klass (now deceased) was one of the only people who ever did a critical, in-depth examination of this claimed abduction. Klass spent a significant amount of time and effort exposing the Travis Walton abduction. The public would only know about most of the critical facts regarding this case because of Klass’ detective work in attempting to discover what really happened to Travis Walton.

On November 5, 1975, at about 6:00 P.M., a seven-member timber crew, lead by Michael Rogers (age 28), was driving home. Allen Dalis (age 21), who was sitting in the rear of the truck, claimed to see a yellowish glow through the heavy timber. Then, both Dalis and Travis Walton (age 22) reported seeing a UFO hovering about one hundred feet off the road, directly over a pile of cut timber.

Michael Rogers said the object “looked like a flying saucer... something I’d seen pictures of...” Travis asked Rogers to stop the truck, but before he stopped the truck, Walton opened the door, leaped out, and ran toward the UFO. Travis got close to the object and suddenly “a tremendously bright, blue-green ray shot out of the bottom of the craft. I saw and heard nothing. All I felt was the numbing force of a blow that felt like a high voltage electrocution... The stunning concussion of the foot-wide beam struck me full in the head and chest... From the instant I felt that paralyzing blow, I did not see, hear, or feel anything more... I was hurled backward through the air for 10 feet. My right shoulder collided with the hard rocky earth of the ridge top. Landing simply spread out on the cold ground, my body lay motionless.”¹⁵⁷

Thinking that Travis (his best friend) might be dead, Rogers said he panicked and drove quickly away.¹⁵⁸ After driving for about a quarter of a mile, the crew claimed they saw the UFO depart, and so they went back to rescue Travis. When they returned to the site, they couldn’t find Travis anywhere. One of the crew members then contacted the police, who also couldn’t find Travis at the location.

Travis' mother, Mary Kellett, was living in a house owned by the Gibson family. This house is located about fifteen miles away from where the UFO incident was reported. Rogers and Police Officer Kenneth Coplan then went to see Mary Kellett to break the tragic news of her son's disappearance. Coplan said that: "When Rogers told the mother what had happened, she did not act very surprised."¹⁵⁹ She said, 'Well, that's the way these things happen.' Then Mrs. Kellett proceeded to tell about Duane [her oldest son] seeing a UFO several years before at the ranch. Then she said another UFO came by and that both she and Duane saw it."¹⁶⁰

Mary Kellett then informed her daughter of what happened. According to Officer Coplan, the mother said: "Travis is gone." And when her daughter inquired where, her mom replied: "A flying saucer got him." Coplan was also surprised by how calmly Travis' sister took the news of Travis' disappearance.

The following morning almost fifty people,¹⁶¹ including law enforcement officers, were searching the area for Travis or his remains. They looked near the pile of timber where the incident happened, where Travis was supposedly knocked to the ground. They could not find any physical evidence like blood or clothing that would support the story. They also didn't find any evidence of heat over the pile of timber where the UFO was claimed to be hovering. Late in the afternoon, there was a shock to the search crew when, according to Officer Coplan, "Mrs. Kellett finally came up and said: 'I don't think there is any use of looking any further. He's not around here. I don't think he's on earth.'"¹⁶²

The police officers then talked about going over to the Gibson home where Mrs. Kellett had been staying, to see if Travis might be there. Travis' older brother volunteered to look for Travis there, and did so, according to Coplan. Coplan said that, to the best of his knowledge, no law enforcement officers ever searched the Gibson home, to see if it was being used as a hideout for Travis. But police officers did make repeated visits to Mary Kellett's home.¹⁶³ Sheriff Gillespie threatened legal prosecution if the UFO incident proved to be a hoax.¹⁶⁴ Mary was very upset that she was being questioned by the police inside her house. Duane told the police to leave, unless they had something new to ask or relate. Duane recommended that Mary speak with police only on the front porch. This would allow Mary to end the interview anytime she wanted by simply going inside her house. Some skeptics believed that Mary Kellett was hiding something or someone.¹⁶⁵

Ground Saucer Watch (GSW) was a pro-UFO organization, and the first on the scene after the Walton abduction. Dr. Lester Stewart of GSW started to interview the Walton family while Travis was still missing. He immediately smelled a hoax. Duane was asked about his brother's disappearance, and he responded: "Travis will be found... UFOs are friendly." Dr. Stewart responded, "How do you know Travis will be found?" Duane said: "I have a feeling, a strong feeling." Dr. Stewart asked: "If the UFO 'captors' are going to return Travis, will you have a camera to record this great occurrence?" Duane said: "No, if I have a camera 'they' will not return."¹⁶⁶

Then, Duane Walton and Michael Rogers were interviewed by UFO researcher Fred Sylvanus. During the interview, which was tape-recorded, Rogers described the appearance of the UFO. Rogers described the UFO: "It was really kind of pretty... it was really beautiful."¹⁶⁷ But it was the comments of Travis' older brother Duane that really surprised Sylvanus. Duane was almost like a father to Travis because of their mother's two previous failed "marriages." Here are some parts of the incredible exchange:

Sylvanus: "Anything else you can tell us, Duane?"

Duane: No, other than I don't believe he's hurt or injured in any way. [He'll] be back sooner or later, whenever they get done doing what they're doing.

Sylvanus: You feel he will come back?

Duane: Sure do. Don't feel any fear for him at all. Little regret because I haven't been able to experience the same thing. That's about it.

Sylvanus: You feel you just miss him and he'll come back?

Duane: He's not even missing. He knows where he's at, and I know where he's at.

Sylvanus: [Very surprised] You know where he's at? Have either of you fellows read much about flying saucers?

Rogers: A little.

Sylvanus: How about you Duane?

Duane: As much as anybody¹⁶⁸... Travis and I discussed this many, many times at great length and we both said that [if we saw a UFO] we would immediately get as directly under the object as physically possible.

Sylvanus: If you saw one you would get underneath it?

Duane: We discussed this time and time again! The opportunity would be too great to pass up... and whoever happened to be left on the ground – if one of us didn't make the grade – to try to convince whoever was in the craft to come back and get the other one. But he [Travis] performed just as we said we would, and he got directly under the object. And he's received the benefits for it.

Rogers: You hope he has!¹⁶⁹

Sylvanus: Anything else you'd like to add?

Duane: Nothing other than I don't fear for his life. He's not in any danger. He'll turn up sooner or later, whenever they are ready, or whenever he's ready.

Sylvanus: Do you know that he's definitely...

Duane: [Interrupting] Having the experience of a lifetime! I don't think he's in any danger at all. He'll turn up. All I can say is that I wish I was with him.

Sylvanus: Can you give me any basis for this feeling? I'm not trying to ridicule, don't misunderstand.

Duane: Oh no. Everybody in the family...

Rogers: [Interrupting] Long-time consideration of the idea.¹⁷⁰

Duane: [Continuing] We've paid a lot of attention to it. We've lived with it [UFOs] for ten years. The fact that they are here and we see them quite regularly. And they don't kill people. They don't kill people! That's not why they're here... It's just that he's gone. And he's had an experience of a lifetime. And all I wish is that I was there, at any cost."¹⁷¹

After five days missing, Travis showed up alive when he made a collect call to his sister from a pay phone at an Exxon gas station, and asked to be picked up.¹⁷² When Travis gave his name, the operator recognized the name and gave a tip to the police. Travis Walton's sister and older brother picked Travis up at the gas station and drove him to his mom's house. The police went over to the gas station, but were too late; for Travis had already left. Officer Glen Flake decided to see if Travis went to his mom's house. At around 2:00 A.M., Flake arrived at his mom's house and saw that the lights were on; but the curtains were closed. Outside the home, Officer Flake saw Duane Walton siphoning fuel from his brother-in-law's car. Duane told Flake that he had to get back to Phoenix, and had forgotten to buy fuel while the gas stations were open, and therefore had to siphon fuel from his brother-in-law's car.¹⁷³ Duane also did not inform Officer Flake (who was one of the main officers involved in the search for Travis) that Travis had returned alive and was safely inside the house.¹⁷⁴

When word got out to reporters and others that Travis had returned, some doctors wanted to give a physical examination to Travis. Two doctors, Dr. Howard Kandell and Dr. Joseph Saults, who were members of a pro-UFO group, arrived to do an examination. They brought a camera and a tape recorder, but Duane refused to let them use either of them. Duane told the doctors to limit themselves to a cursory examination and not to ask Travis about any details of his UFO experience. Travis had claimed that he was hit in the chest and head by a powerful UFO laser beam and that he flew 10 feet through the air and smashed on the hard, rocky ground. But the doctors did not find bruise marks anywhere on his body.¹⁷⁵ Klass commented on this: “The UFO’s beam seemingly was explosive in its force, knocking Travis unconscious so he could not remember how he was taken aboard [the UFO], but the beam was so gentle and harmless that it left no burn or bruise marks on Travis’ body when he was examined a few days later...”¹⁷⁶

Duane also gave the doctors Travis’ urine sample, which he said was the first Travis had voided since his abduction by the UFO.¹⁷⁷ Later lab tests revealed something that was puzzling about the sample. Dr. Kandell spoke to Klass and said: “if a person goes without food or water for more than a day or two, your body starts to break down its own fat. The waste product... is a substance that is excreted in the urine, called acetone. So that if a person has been without nutrition for a period of four or five days, you would expect to see acetone in his urine.”¹⁷⁸ Later Sheriff Gillespie wanted to talk to Travis, and he told Klass “they [the family] made an almost insistent request that there be nobody else around, and no recordings.”¹⁷⁹ If Travis’ story were true, there wouldn’t be an extreme concern about tape recordings, or a fear about someone asking Travis about the “abduction.” The only reason that his family would have this level of fear is because the whole thing was a fraud.

A scheduled polygraph (lie detector) test was then set up, and Travis failed to show up. When someone asked one of Travis’ advising friends, Jim Lorenzen, why he didn’t take the polygraph test, he responded: “Because a lot of people have criticized it. Because they think [the] polygraph is a lie-detector, because it is called that. But it’s not. And Travis was under that impression too. He was anxious to take a lie-detector, or polygraph test. I advised him not to, and several other people advised him not to, because what it actually measures is stress. And questions about stressful memories would bring stress reactions, just as well as anything else.¹⁸⁰ So it would have been meaningless to have him take that test at that time. It could have been – in fact, one of the psychiatrists said it would have been – a disaster for him to take it at the time. It would have created a lot of false impressions.”¹⁸¹

As Travis’ friend Lorenzen was making these statements, he wasn’t divulging that Travis had already been given a secret polygraph test, administered by John McCarthy, the most experienced examiner in the state of Arizona. Travis had failed the lie-detector test badly. Jack McCarthy had been hired by Jim Lorenzen and the National Enquirer to give Travis the test. Before the test took place, the National Enquirer had McCarthy sign a “secrecy agreement” which would prevent McCarthy from publicly revealing the results of the test.¹⁸²

McCarthy and Travis emerged together after the test and McCarthy was asked about his findings. His response was: “Gross deception!” He based his conclusion upon the responses Travis gave to seven important questions dealing with the alleged UFO incident.¹⁸³ McCarthy also said that Travis was intentionally holding his breath at times to “beat the machine.” The following day McCarthy typed up his formal report, which stated: “Based on his [Travis’] reactions on all charts, it is the opinion of this examiner that Walton, in concert with others, is attempting to perpetrate a UFO hoax, and that he has not been on any spacecraft.”¹⁸⁴

Klass found out that McCarthy had done a polygraph test on Travis, and wanted to know what his findings were. McCarthy then faced a decision to deny the test, and honor the agreement he signed, or tell the truth. McCarthy decided to tell the truth. Klass visited McCarthy on November 3, 1977, and McCarthy showed Klass some of the charts from the polygraph test. For example, when Travis was asked: “Were you actually in a spacecraft from the 5th of November to the 10th of November,” the chart demonstrated a dramatic increase in Travis’ blood pressure with the polygraph pen hitting its retaining stop. When responding to certain questions, Travis held his breath for 10 to 15 seconds before answering “yes” or “no.”¹⁸⁵ Some have suggested that this activity by Walton showed that he was given advice or tips on how to beat the polygraph machine.¹⁸⁶

During the test, McCarthy asked Travis whether he had ever used drugs. Travis admitted he tried marijuana, LSD, and “speed.”¹⁸⁷ Travis was asked whether he had ever been arrested. Travis said that he had been involved in the theft and forgery of payroll checks five years earlier.¹⁸⁸ Travis Walton and Charles Rogers (Michael Rogers’ younger brother) had pleaded guilty on May 5, 1971, in the Navajo County Superior Court, to the following charge: “On or about the night of February 18, 1971, they broke into the office of the Western Molding Co., with intent to steal and did steal therefrom a quantity of Western Molding checks, and on the 19th day of February filled out said checks payable to a fictitious person and signed the name of Robert W. Gonsalves, thereby to cheat and defraud.” After the defendants agreed to make restitution of the funds, they were placed on a two-year probation. On August 3, 1971, having lived up to the terms of probation, they were allowed, under Arizona law, to “cleanse the record” by appearing in court and pleading “not guilty” to the original charge.¹⁸⁹ After this incident, Travis married Rogers’ sister.¹⁹⁰

Dr. Jean Rosenbaum, a psychiatrist, then spent several days interviewing Travis and his family. Dr. Rosenbaum was asked whether Travis had a strong interest in UFOs. Rosenbaum said: “Everybody in the family claimed they had seen one... he not only comes from a ‘UFO family,’ but from a ‘UFO culture.’ Everybody in that area of the country sees UFOs all the time. And his brother had seen one a week or two before, and his mother had seen some. Everybody in the family had seen some and he’s been preoccupied with this almost all his life... he made the comment to his mother just prior to the incident that if he was ever abducted by a UFO she was not to worry because he’d be all right.”¹⁹¹

Travis described part of his abduction by the UFO, and waking up in an alien aircraft. Travis Walton: “...I couldn’t stand up very well, and I was breathing heavily¹⁹²... And there was nothing in the room but a chair with some controls and knobs and things. I was just, kind of, I was, I was hysterical. I was frantic. And I just moved around in there for a while. And I started fooling with the buttons there... This must have been inside of a larger building or ship. I don’t know if it was a large ship or a building.”¹⁹³ Travis had repeatedly emphasized that he did not know where he was over the five day period of time in which he had disappeared. Travis said that he only remembered, at the most, two hours.¹⁹⁴

Later on, Travis took another polygraph test and passed, in the opinion of tester George Pfeifer. One of the questions Pfeifer asked was: "Before November 5, 1975 were you a UFO buff? Travis answered "No," and Pfeifer's appraisal of the polygraph chart concluded that Travis had told the truth. But this contradicts what he and his family said about their deep belief and interest in UFOs. Pfeifer's final opinion was that Travis and Duane Walton had passed the polygraph tests he had given them. Pfeifer then left the company he was working for to start his own practice. The owner of the polygraph company that Pfeifer was working for, Tom Ezell, later went over Pfeifer's test of the Waltons. His opinion was that it was impossible to tell whether Travis and Duane Walton were responding truthfully to the test questions. He also stated that Pfeifer noted on the test charts that he allowed Travis to "dictate" some of the test questions he was asked. Ezell said that this was a violation of the basic principles of polygraphy. Ezell confirmed this when he sent a letter to Klass, which stated: "Upon review of this examination, I find that to me it is not acceptable. In the first place, I would not be a party to an examination in which the subject dictated the questions to be asked... Because of the dictation of the questions to be asked, this test should also be invalidated. Also, upon examining the resultant charts, I find that I cannot give an opinion one way or another"¹⁹⁵ on whether they answered the questions truthfully or not.¹⁹⁶

Klass then called Ezell and asked how Pfeifer could pass Travis, when the other much more experienced examiner, McCarthy, had flunked him. Ezell replied: "Perhaps George is like a lot of examiners... always looking for one big break. Knowing this [the Walton case] is a national deal, perhaps George could see his name emblazoned in neon lights." Within a month after the Walton tests went public, Pfeifer was a UFO celebrity and had set up his own office. Klass spoke with Pfeifer over the telephone and asked him about his examination of Travis. Klass said: "Travis came in with a list of questions that he wanted you to ask him... he had framed the relevant questions."¹⁹⁷ Pfeifer responded: "theoretically that's correct."¹⁹⁸ Pfeifer also tested Travis' mother and asked her: "Have you yourself ever seen a flying saucer?" She answered: "No" and Pfeifer determined that she had responded truthfully.¹⁹⁹ But Travis' mom had previously claimed to see UFOs.

Klass then contacted Duane Walton over the telephone. He didn't tell him that he knew about the little-known first failed test with McCarthy. He asked Duane: "When did Travis first take a polygraph, or lie-detector test?" He answered: "I don't know. I don't have the foggiest notion. I know that he and I took one together recently," speaking of the Pfeifer test. Klass then asked: "Had he taken any polygraph test before that?" Duane replied: "I don't have the foggiest notion. I really don't know." But Duane was present at the Scottsdale hotel suite and spoke to McCarthy before Travis was tested the first time. When the test was over, McCarthy announced that Travis had failed, and Duane was "furious." Duane also lied to Sheriff Gillespie when Travis was first found. He told the Sheriff that Travis was in a Tucson hospital undergoing medical tests, when he was actually with him in Phoenix.²⁰⁰

Klass also talked with polygraph tester Cy Gilson. He had originally given Mike Rogers and the crew members polygraph tests, which they seemed to pass. Gilson had given the tests to the crew members after the incident originally happened because the police suspected the crew members might have killed Travis and made up the UFO story as a cover. Gilson said the test was given "to determine whether or not there had been a crime committed."²⁰¹

Gilson started to wonder about Allen Dalis, the one crew member who didn't pass the test. His test was considered inconclusive. During his interviews with the news media, Dalis described the UFO in great detail; but during the pre-test discussion with Gilson, he changed his story about what happened. Dalis said he had been so frightened by the UFO that he "ducked down in the seat and didn't see any blue-green flash," Gilson said. Gilson added: "So he wasn't even being truthful to start with; what he originally claimed he saw he [later] admitted to me he didn't see any of it."²⁰² About a year later Dalis would go to jail. Dalis was sentenced to three five-year concurrent sentences for armed robbery.²⁰³ The records indicated that Dalis pleaded guilty to committing the felonies in order to support his drug habit. He had been in and out of correction centers during his troubled youth.²⁰⁴ Dalis married the sister of John Goulette, a member of the crew.²⁰⁵ Goulette would also admit: "I will smoke pot every once in a while, but never when working. You just can't do it and work, too."²⁰⁶ Another member of the crew, Ken Peterson, fled to Mexico.²⁰⁷

About 18 years later, on February 1, 1993, and February 4, 1993, crew members Dalis, Rogers, and Travis Walton were re-tested. They all passed the tests. The very fact that these men were able to beat the polygraph test should be enough to show anyone that the polygraph isn't an accurate machine for detecting lying. But here are some facts about the polygraph test.

Does the Polygraph (Lie Detector Test) Prove that Someone is Telling the Truth or Lying? – No!

University Professor of Psychology and Neuroscience, William Iacono, published a paper on Lie Detection Procedures. He stated: “Although the CQT [Control Question Test] may be useful as an investigative aid and tool to induce confessions, it does not pass muster as a scientifically credible test.”²⁰⁸ In a 1998 Supreme Court case, United States v. Scheffer, the majority stated that: “There is simply no consensus that polygraph evidence is reliable” and “... a polygraph expert can supply the jury only with another opinion...”²⁰⁹

In most jurisdictions of Europe, polygraphs are not considered reliable evidence and are not generally used by police forces.²¹⁰ The Supreme Court of Canada rejected the use of polygraph results as evidence in court. The High Court of Israel ruled that the polygraph has not been recognized as a reliable device and polygraph results are inadmissible in criminal trials.²¹¹ Also, from 1945 to now, at least six Americans were committing espionage while they successfully passed polygraph tests.²¹² In fact, the polygraph test has ruined many careers, but has never uncovered a single spy. There are currently many websites dedicated to preparing people to beat polygraph tests. Also, not very long ago, there was a story which received national attention: a young pregnant girl was murdered. One of the prime suspects was the girl's boyfriend. Her boyfriend was given a polygraph test about whether he was involved in her murder or disappearance. He passed the polygraph test, but then later on admitted in court that he killed her.

Motives for the Crew Members to Lie

Michael Rogers (the head of the crew) was quoted in the presence of investigators saying: “Steve [Pierce, a crew member] told me and Travis that he had been offered ten thousand dollars just to sign a denial [a statement that he had not seen a UFO]. He said he was thinking about taking it. We asked him, ‘Even though you know it happened, would you deny it, just for the money?’ He said maybe he would; he was thinking about it. So I told him, ‘Then you’ll spend the money alone, and you’ll be bruised.’”²¹³

This statement shows that part of the hoax was held together by physical threats. Steve Pierce had claimed that he had seen the UFO and the ray which hit Travis (the one who was “abducted” and then returned safely). If it really happened, why would he be willing to deny such an amazing and monumental event for $10,000? It’s because the event never really happened.

On October 20, 1975, NBC ran a two-hour alien abduction film special on Betty and Barney Hill. It was only about two weeks later (November 5, 1975) when Travis Walton would claim almost the same thing – that he was abducted by aliens. Did he get the idea from the special?

Michael Rogers (one of the crew members) later admitted that he had watched part of the NBC special. He said that: “I did watch the first part of it. But then I turned it off because it was boring. I just was not all that interested in UFOs before this thing happened.”²¹⁴ But John Goulette, a member of the crew, admitted “... I had only been on this job for about a month and a half. And over that time, UFOs came up maybe three times, at the most. Mostly it was just Mike [Rogers] and Travis [Walton] arguing about what would make them fly.”²¹⁵

The National Enquirer Award

At that time the National Enquirer was offering a $100,000 award for “positive proof” of ET visitors. National Enquirer was prominently displayed at checkouts at most supermarkets. Considering that the Waltons were so interested in UFOs, they were probably aware of the award. Sure enough, the National Enquirer immediately got involved in the Walton incident right after it happened.

Jeff Wells was one of the National Enquirer reporters who was sent to Arizona to meet Travis and look at the case. Here are some of the things that Wells said: “If we liked the story, and it could be properly documented, and the kid [Travis] could pass our lie detector tests, we would open our check books all the way and start talking in five figures²¹⁶... My paper had offered tens of thousands of dollars to anybody who could positively prove that aliens had visited our planet – in the knowledge that exclusive rights could be worth millions... Our immediate task was to bribe the brother with the thousand [dollars] to shack up with us in a luxury motel on the outskirts of town, no names registered, where the rest of [the] Press who were about to descend and the sheriff, who was calling the whole thing a hoax and demanding that the kid take a lie-detector test, would not bother them... He [Travis] sat there mute, pale, twitching like a cornered animal.²¹⁷ He was either a brilliant actor or he was in [a] serious funk about something... [Duane] began to talk about his own UFO experience when he had been chased by a flying saucer through the woods as a child... the strain began to tell on the kid [Travis] and he lapsed into sobbing bouts. He was falling apart and so was his story... [Next was] the lie detector expert we had lined up... The test lasted an hour and I was in the next room fending off the [CBS 60 Minutes] TV crew when I heard the cowboy [Duane] scream: 'I'll kill the son of a b....' The kid had failed the test miserably. The polygraph man [McCarthy] said it was the plainest case of lying he had seen in 20 years but the office was yelling for another expert and a different result."²¹⁸

On July 6, 1976, the National Enquirer's July 13 edition hit the stands with a large feature story,²¹⁹ stating that the Travis Walton incident was selected as the most impressive UFO event of 1975 after having been "exhaustively investigated." The award was divided among the members of the crew.²²⁰ The National Enquirer stated that "Walton, his mother and brother, as well as his six companions, were subjected to 'lie-detector' tests – and, without exception, were found to be telling the truth."²²¹ Of course the National Enquirer didn't mention the results of the first test,²²² which Travis had flunked miserably.

The Forest Contract

At the time of the event, Michael Rogers' timber crew was under a U.S. Forest Service contract. They were attempting to work quickly to thin out an area in order to complete the contract they had signed.²²³ Rogers was seriously behind schedule²²⁴ and close to defaulting on the contract.²²⁵

In a tape recorded interview of Mike Rogers and Duane Walton, Rogers said: "This contract that we have [with the U.S. Forest Service] is seriously behind schedule. In fact, Monday the time is up. We haven't done any work on it since Wednesday because of this thing [the UFO incident]; therefore, it won't be done. I hope they take that into account, this problem. As it is, we have to drive an hour and fifteen minutes one way, both to and from work. It's hard for us..."²²⁶ Rogers' statement suggested that his excuse for not fulfilling the contract was the UFO incident.

Klass also discovered that at the same time Mike Rogers was trying to complete the contract job, where Travis had disappeared, he had been working on two other jobs. Klass asked Rogers whether the Forest Service Contracting Officer (named Maurice Marchbanks) was aware that Rogers' crew was working on two other jobs at the same time they were working on the contract job, which they were supposed to fulfill. Rogers responded: "They knew about the lopping job. They didn't know about the subcontract I had [with another Forest Service contractor]." This statement was not true. Marchbanks was not aware of any lopping contract at the time Rogers made the statement to Klass. Klass informed Marchbanks of the second job Rogers had been involved with; Marchbanks was completely unaware of it.²²⁷

Mrs. Gibson of Heber, Arizona also thought the Travis Walton story might be a hoax because she said many hoaxes and pranks were done to her by Mary Kellett (Travis' mom) and the members of her family. Mrs. Kellett was living in a ranch house owned by Gibson's father-in-law at the time of the UFO incident. Kellett (Travis' mom) was allowed by the Gibson family to use the ranch house as a summer home.

Despite the generosity they showed to Kellett's family, numerous hoaxes and pranks were committed. Mrs. Gibson said: "... they called the ranch and said somebody has killed a whole bunch of your cows. They are dead all over the meadows up here. So we went running up there to see... and there wasn't one dead cow... It was a complete hoax... Another instance that happened last May 17 [1975]... the mother [Mrs. Kellett] called and said, 'Your tank-dam is washing out and you're going to lose all your water.' ... we got out there and the tank-dam was exactly the same as it ever was... So it's been just instance after instance that these things have happened."²²⁸

Klass makes an excellent concluding statement on Travis Walton: "If Travis was really abducted by a UFO, and even if he had no interest in the subject, UFOs should have become the focal point of his interest... Surely he would want to attend UFO conferences and 'support group' meetings to talk to other 'abductees.' But the only UFO conferences Walton attends – always with Rogers²²⁹ – are those where they are invited speakers... Travis shows scant curiosity about UFOs. He says he only wants ‘to get on with my life and live it as normally as possible.’”²³⁰

The Most Famous UFO Incident in History: Roswell, New Mexico

The alleged UFO crash of an alien aircraft near Roswell, New Mexico is the most famous UFO incident in history.²³¹ For this reason only, a little bit of in-depth information needs to be provided on this issue. Here’s a brief history: On June 14, 1947, after a night of intense thunderstorms,²³² William Brazel saw some strange debris while working on a ranch where he was the foreman. Brazel’s recollections of what he saw on June 14, 1947, were printed a few weeks later. They were printed in the Roswell Daily Record, after the paper interviewed Brazel.²³³

Roswell Daily Record, July 9, 1947: “Brazel related that on June 14 he and his 8-year old son, Vernon, were about 7 or 8 miles from the ranch house of the J.B. Foster ranch, which he operates, when they came upon a large area of bright wreckage made up of rubber strips, tinfoil, a rather tough paper and sticks. At the time, Brazel was in a hurry... and he did not pay much attention to it. But he did remark about what he had seen and on July 4 he, his wife, Vernon, and a daughter (Bessie, age 14) went back to the spot and gathered up quite a bit of the debris... When the debris was gathered up, the tinfoil, paper, tape, and sticks made a bundle about three feet long and 7 or 8 inches thick, while the rubber made a bundle about 18 or 20 inches long and about 8 inches thick. In all, he estimated, the entire lot would have weighed maybe five pounds. There was no sign of any propellers of any kind, although at least one paper fin had been glued onto some of the tinfoil. There were no words to be found anywhere on the instrument, although there were letters on some of the parts. Considerable scotch tape and some tape with flowers printed upon it had been used in the construction. No strings or wire were to be found but there were some eyelets in the paper to indicate that some sort of attachment may have been used.”²³⁴

The day after Brazel discovered the debris, he heard reports of “flying discs.” He wondered if that was what he had found. Brazel didn’t even report the event until many days later, after he was able to go into town.²³⁵ He drove into the town of Roswell to buy a new pickup truck and brought pieces of the debris. Brazel spoke to the local sheriff about the strange debris.

The Wyoming Eagle of July 9, 1947, would relate what Brazel said to the sheriff about the debris: "... (Brazel) told the sheriff he didn't know what the disc was, but that at first it appeared to be a weather meter... The sheriff quoted (Brazel) as saying the object 'seemed more or less like tinfoil.' The rancher described the disc as about as large as the safe in the sheriff's office. The safe is about three and one-half by four feet."

After hearing Brazel's story, the sheriff's office notified the local Air Force Base. After being notified, Colonel William Blanchard ordered Captain Sheridan Cavitt and Major Jesse Marcel to view the wreckage.

Also, at the time of William Brazel's July 1947 interview with the Roswell Daily Record, the paper reported the following: "... Maj. Jesse Marcel and a man in plain clothes [Sheridan Cavitt] accompanied him home, where they picked up the rest of the 'disk' and went to his [Brazel's] home to try to reconstruct it. According to Brazel, they simply could not reconstruct it at all. They tried to make a kite out of it, but could not do that and could not find any way to put it back together so that it would fit. Then Major Marcel brought it to Roswell and that was the last he [William Brazel] heard of it until the story broke that he had found a flying disk."²³⁶

After viewing the wreckage, Cavitt instantly thought it came from a weather balloon. In fact, as recently as May 24, 1994, Sheridan Cavitt reaffirmed that the wreckage was from a balloon. In his official statement, he declared: "I thought at the time and think so now, that this debris was from a crashed balloon... My bottom line is that this whole incident was no big deal and it certainly did not involve anything extraterrestrial."²³⁷

But Jesse Marcel had ideas that the remains might be extraterrestrial. Marcel would later wake his son and wife up to tell them about flying saucers. The debris was then sent to General Ramey at the regional Army Air Force Command in Fort Worth, Texas for further analysis.

On July 8, 1947, the public information office at the Air Force made an announcement that they recovered a flying disc. Several newspapers immediately had headlines such as, "Army Reveals It Has Flying Disc Found On Ranch in New Mexico" and "RAAF Captures Flying Saucer On Ranch in Roswell Region." Shortly after this announcement, however, a press conference was held which included Brigadier General

Roger Ramey and Major Marcel. The General announced the excitement was over nothing more than a weather balloon, pieces of which were shown for the public to see.

Warrant Officer Irving Newton also examined the wreckage that day and identified the object as being a weather balloon and its kite.²³⁸ In a July 21, 1994 affidavit, Irving Newton reconfirmed his position on what happened. He stated: "... I walked into the General's office where this supposed flying saucer was laying all over the floor. As soon as I saw it, I giggled and asked if that was the flying saucer. I was told it was... the material I saw in General Ramey's office was the remains of a balloon and a Rawin target."²³⁹

In the 1990s, Newton told investigators: "I remember Major Marcel chased me all around that room... He also kept saying things like, 'Look how tough that metal is. Look at the strange markings on it.' While examining the debris, Marcel was picking up pieces of the radar target sticks and trying to convince me that some notations on the sticks were alien writings. But I was adamant that it was a weather balloon with a RAWIN [radar-wind] target. I think he was embarrassed as crazy, and he would like to do anything to make that turn into a flying saucer."²⁴⁰

The particular radar targets which were used on the Air Force weather balloons were new, and not in the general use in the U.S. at the time. Also, "Major Marcel was never trained in the identification of weather balloons, especially those with radar reflectors..."²⁴¹

In addition to all of this, Marcel was even quoted in 1947, at the time of the discovery of the Roswell debris, saying: "... we spent a couple of hours Monday afternoon looking for any more parts of the weather device. We found a few more patches of tinfoil and rubber."²⁴² The July 9th 1947 Fort Worth Star-Telegram newspaper quoted Marcel as saying the debris consisted of "tinfoil and broken wooden beams of the kite and the torn synthetic remains of the balloon..."²⁴³ His own words therefore proved that it was a weather balloon.

In the July 9, 1947 edition of the Carlsbad, New Mexico newspaper, Daily Current-Argus, William Brazel was quoted as saying he "was amazed at the fuss made over his discovery."²⁴⁴

The Roswell incident was quickly forgotten and almost entirely ignored even by UFO researchers for more than 30 years. But in 1978 things changed when ET believer Stanton Friedman interviewed Jesse Marcel. If this interview had not occurred, the public probably wouldn't have heard again about the Roswell incident. Jesse Marcel now claimed (31 years later) that the balloon material was substituted for alien flying saucer wreckage during the famous 1947 press conference. But when Marcel was asked when the recovery of the crashed alien aircraft occurred, he couldn't even remember the month or even the year the event happened! Marcel's answer was only "in the late forties."²⁴⁵ So Marcel was claiming to have come across the greatest discovery in human history (the discovery of an alien craft) and he didn't even remember or bother to write down the year it happened!

The National Enquirer publicized its own interview with Marcel. This gave worldwide attention to the Roswell event. But then Marcel seemed to contradict his new story, that the debris was from a crashed alien aircraft but had been replaced by balloon material in the press conference. This contradiction happened when he admitted that the material he appeared with in the 1947 press conference was indeed part of the debris he recovered from the original "alien crash site." UFO skeptics and UFO advocates both agree that this debris from the 1947 photos and press conference is debris from a balloon device!²⁴⁶ Major Marcel's admission: "They took one picture of me on the floor holding up some of the less interesting metallic debris... The stuff in that one photo was [sic] pieces of the actual stuff we found. It was not a staged photo."²⁴⁷

The Lies and Exaggerations of Major Jesse Marcel

Jesse Marcel had a history of exaggeration and embellishment in order to make himself famous. Investigators checked into claims which Marcel made about himself. They independently obtained Jesse Marcel's nearly 200-page long military service file.²⁴⁸ Major Jesse Marcel told book authors that he was a pilot with over 3,000 hours of piloting experience. He told them that he shot down five enemy planes during World War II. These statements were not true. The FAA, which possesses complete records going back to 1928, has no record of a pilot named Jesse Marcel.²⁴⁹ Marcel claimed that he had a bachelor's degree in physics from George Washington University (GWU). GWU doesn't have any records of Marcel ever attending GWU, or with a degree in physics.²⁵⁰ Marcel also claimed to have attended LSU, yet LSU could find no record of Marcel.²⁵¹ Marcel also claimed: "I wrote the very report President Truman read on air declaring that Russia had exploded an atomic device.” Harry Truman never read any report on radio concerning this.²⁵² These are a few of the lies and exaggerations told by Major Jesse Marcel from 1979 until his death.²⁵³ Marcel’s Air Force efficiency report (performance review) from July 1, 1947, to April 30, 1948, also noted Marcel as having “an inclination to magnify problems he is confronted with.”²⁵⁴

Frank Kaufmann, who died in 2001, was a former government intelligence agent. Kaufmann has been one of the most frequently quoted “authorities” on the Roswell event. In a book that was considered by many to be the definitive version of the “Roswell crash,” Kaufmann was considered the lynch-pin witness to the veracity of the story²⁵⁵ that an alien saucer crashed near Roswell. Kaufmann claimed that he was part of a secret military team called “The Unholy 13”²⁵⁶ which recovered the UFO near Roswell in 1947. However, a major problem with the story is that Kaufmann was recently discovered to have been discharged from the military in 1945, two years before the incident took place.²⁵⁷ He claims he saw a crashed flying disc and aliens near Roswell. He even claimed: “I’m sure I saw those aliens.” He also described the aliens as “good looking people.”²⁵⁸ After Frank’s death in 2001, his widow allowed researchers access to his private papers, and researchers discovered that Frank was guilty of lies and forgeries.²⁵⁹

In a 1989 Unsolved Mysteries show on Roswell, a new group of “witnesses” came forward with strange tales of alien sightings. One magazine commented on this new group: “No one in this second group has told a plausible or consistent story. Jim Ragsdale, for one, said he spotted four alien bodies near a spaceship. Later he asserted that he saw nine alien bodies, from which he removed gold helmets, and that he buried the aliens in the sand.”²⁶⁰ Concerning what he “saw,” Jim Ragsdale also said: “I’m sure that [there] were bodies, either bodies or dummies.”²⁶¹ Later on, Ragsdale changed his story.

Another “key witness” is Gerald Anderson. He made his first claims about what he saw in interviews done in the 1990s - 43 years after the event he claimed to witness. He claimed that, when he was about 5 years old, his brother, father, and cousin (all of whom were dead at the time of his interview) came across a spaceship and four aliens. It’s a fact that five year olds cannot remember an event in extreme detail²⁶² - especially

43 years after the event. Gerald Anderson has also recently been proven to be a liar and a forger of documents.²⁶³ Also, the total number of aliens that were seen by the “witnesses” of the Roswell event has been different. Further, many of the witnesses that have come forward have declared, as fact, that the material from the crashed saucer, which they handled, was “extraterrestrial.” Yet none of them ever decided to keep any of this alien material for a souvenir or for any other reason.²⁶⁴

Bessie Brazel was a key witness to what actually crashed near Roswell. She was with her father and her mother when they picked up the debris the first time. On September 22, 1993, Bessie gave a sworn personal affidavit which described the material which was found at the Foster ranch. She stated: “The debris looked like large pieces of a balloon which had burst... Most of it was kind of a double-sided material, foil-like on one side and rubber-like on the other... Sticks, like kite sticks, were attached to some of the pieces...”²⁶⁵

In a letter on Jan 10, 1994, Bessie described, once again, what she remembered about the original crashed debris: “The debris looked like pieces of a large balloon which had burst. The pieces were small, the largest I remember measuring about the same as the diameter of a basketball. Most of it was a kind of double-sided material, foil-like on one side and rubber-like on the other... Sticks, like kite sticks, were attached to some of the pieces with a whitish tape. The tape was about two or three inches wide... We spent several hours collecting the debris and putting it into sacks. I believe we filled about three sacks... We speculated a bit about what the material could be. I remember dad (William Brazel) saying ‘Oh, it’s just a bunch of garbage.’”²⁶⁶

The Air Force conducted its own investigation of the Roswell incident. In two investigative reports, which were completed in the 1990s, the Air Force concluded that the strange debris found near Roswell was the remains of a top secret military program called Project Mogul. Project Mogul was a program which tracked, with radar equipment on high-altitude balloons, the United States’ ability to detect Soviet nuclear tests and ballistic missiles.²⁶⁷ The radar equipment on the Mogul balloons would detect sound waves generated by Soviet nuclear detonations. In 1947 the U.S. was in the opening stages of a cold war with the Soviet Union. This resulted in many secret military programs geared toward gaining intelligence on the Soviets, especially concerning their nuclear programs. In the 1940s, discovering whether the Soviets were testing nuclear devices was considered to be of the highest national priority.²⁶⁸

Project Mogul was being conducted in New Mexico. The Mogul Air Force balloons were sent into the air from Alamogordo, New Mexico. Several of the balloons got lost in June and July of 1947, the same time as the Roswell incident. At the same time the balloons disappeared, reports and press coverage of UFOs increased significantly. 853 UFO reports were tallied in the area during June and July of 1947. Many, including the Air Force at that time, speculated that many sightings of UFOs at this time were simply misidentified weather balloons.²⁶⁹

Professor Charles Moore headed the Project Mogul team which operated at the Alamogordo New Mexico Army Air Field during June and July 1947. He believes that the debris found by Brazel came from a train of balloons which were carrying several radar targets. These balloons were launched on June 4, 1947 to test the Project Mogul tracking radar. Moore said that before contact was lost, the June 4 launch was tracked to within 17 miles of where William Brazel discovered the debris. When the balloons were discovered by Brazel's family in early July, it would have been exposed to the sunlight for almost a month. This would have resulted in the deterioration of the neoprene (rubber-like) material. When Moore examined the balloon remnants, which were visible in the photographs taken, he informed a Roswell researcher that the appearance was consistent with the material being exposed to the sunlight for around a month.²⁷⁰

A significant amount of UFO researchers now do not believe that any alien aircraft crashed near Roswell, New Mexico. So why do people make up stories that they have seen aliens or crashed UFOs? They do it out of a desire for money, fame, and fortune.

Majestic 12 & The Men in Black

On December 11, 1984, a UFO researcher named Jamie Shandera claimed to have received an anonymous roll of unprocessed film.²⁷¹ He then contacted William Moore, who co-authored the book: The Roswell Incident. They developed the film. On the film were alleged top-secret government documents which said that crashed saucers were recovered by the government at Roswell and other locations.

Sometime later, Moore and Shandera said they recovered more documents of the same nature, which had been stored away in government archives. In 1994, another roll of film came into the possession of another author of a Roswell conspiracy book. On the film there was information on the procedures on how to handle UFO events. The documents claimed to prove that the government knew about UFOs, and that it was deliberately covering up the truth about them. The documents also indicated that President Truman authorized an operation called “Majestic 12” or MJ-12. Majestic 12 is the supposed code name of an official group of twelve secret experts. This group was supposedly created to investigate and cover up UFO events, witnesses, and investigations following the Roswell incident.²⁷² This supposedly secret military group would operate above the law in order to destroy evidence, intimidate witnesses, and hide the truth about UFOs. But when the Truman “1947 Executive Order” MJ-12 document was examined, it was shown to be a forgery. Close examination shows clearly that characters, typed words, and numbers do not line up correctly on the page the way they would have if they had been typed on a single typewriter. Among the documents was a UFO briefing document prepared for President Eisenhower. This has also been proven to be a forgery.²⁷³

MJ-12 is believed by many to be connected to the so-called “men in black.” The “men in black” is an alleged secret government agency whose job is to keep the “reality” of ETs from the rest of the earth. It’s claimed that the men in black will use money, threats, and other means of coercion to keep information on ET activity hidden from the rest of the public.²⁷⁴

On April 16, 1983, William Moore had a very interesting conversation with his friend Brad Sparks, a respected UFO researcher. (This was less than two years before William Moore claimed he received the MJ-12 documents.) Moore told Sparks that he was considering creating counterfeit government documents on UFOs. Moore said his reason was that his efforts to find people involved with crashed saucer recovery operations had run into a dead end.²⁷⁵ Sparks strongly recommended against it, warning Moore that forging documents could lead to the ruin of his reputation.²⁷⁶

Since the first MJ-12 documents came out, thousands of pages of other claimed leaked government documents have appeared. These alleged documents, which some refer to as the “Majestic Documents,” concern UFOs and a supposed government cover-up of UFOs.²⁷⁷ Some of the documents have already been proven to be unquestionably fraudulent, usually re-typed rewrites of unrelated government documents.²⁷⁸

One of the claims of believers in the authenticity of Majestic 12 is that the bodies of the “aliens” who crashed near Roswell were taken to a storage facility, known as Hanger 18, at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio. Many UFO books identify Hanger 18 as the place where the government is hiding crashed UFOs or their occupants.²⁷⁹ Many believe crashed UFOs and aliens are also being hidden at Area 51 in Nevada.²⁸⁰

An Alien Autopsy: Fact or Fiction 1995 film

The movie called An Alien Autopsy: Fact or Fiction claimed to have the original footage of an alien’s body which was recovered from the famous crash that occurred near Roswell, New Mexico. It included footage of the “alien’s” organs being removed after being opened up with surgical knives. It originally was shown on cable and satellite TV channels. Later, it was shown on large network TV channels, so that tens of millions of people saw this movie. Experts were asked to examine the movie’s “evidence” of alien footage. The experts almost unanimously condemned the movie as a hoax.²⁸¹ Eventually it was confirmed to be a hoax after one of the actors in the movie came forward and admitted he was paid to take part in this deception.²⁸² Fox Television, which aired The Alien Autopsy, later ran another related special on December 28, 1998. It was called: The World’s Greatest Hoaxes; Secrets Revealed. Among other solved mysteries such as Bigfoot²⁸³ and Billy Meier’s “UFO photos,”²⁸⁴ the special announced that the Alien Autopsy film was one of the largest hoaxes ever produced.²⁸⁵

Area 51

Area 51 is a top secret government facility in Nevada. Top secret development and testing are performed there on experimental aircraft and weapon systems.²⁸⁶ Some of these top secret planes bear a resemblance to typical UFO craft sightings. Area 51 has been a test center for the U-2 spy plane, the SR-71 Blackbird reconnaissance plane, the F-117 fighter and bomber, and saucer-like aircrafts as well.²⁸⁷ The man-made tests that are being conducted on advanced aircraft at this place probably make up many of the reported “UFO Sightings” in the area. Sightings have been reported by people who believe that some of the strange planes or lights seen near Area 51 are from aliens. However, it’s possible that some of the lights and strange things that people see at Area 51 are preternatural. It has been said that, in 1947, satanist Jack Parsons held a huge satanic ritual on the very spot where Area 51 is currently located. Parsons’ magical ceremony was called the “Babylon Working” project. It was designed by Aleister Crowley – a satanist and a man who called himself “the beast 666.”²⁸⁸ The purpose of the series of magical ceremonies, on the spot where Area 51 is now located, was to unseal an inter-dimensional gateway. This, they hoped, would allow other dimensional entities known as the “Old Ones” access to our space/time continuum. During the ritual, the spirit of Antichrist was bestowed on Jack Parsons. One person claimed to witness Parsons rip a hole in space time and he said that something evil flew in.

The culmination of the ceremonies was supposedly effective, having resulted in the establishment of “extra-terrestrial contact...”²⁸⁹ Jack Parsons was also a rocket designer who developed patented rocket technology which is still in use by NASA. NASA even named a crater on the far side of the moon in honor of Jack Parsons.²⁹⁰ Parsons held that Jesus Christ and His Church were the enemies of civilization. Parsons was chosen by Aleister Crowley to lead the satanic O.T.O. (Ordo Templi Orientalis) secret society in California in 1942.²⁹¹ So, it would not be surprising at all that at Area 51, the very spot where this satanic gateway was opened, there would be many UFO sightings.

Cattle Mutilations

Many believers in ETs think that aliens might be responsible for mutilations of cattle which have been discovered over the last fifty years. When the mutilated cattle are found, no one can see any footprints or tracks near the mutilated cow. Therefore, many believe that UFOs might have something to do with it.

Biochemist Dr. Colm Kelleher has investigated many claimed mutilations first-hand. In his book, Brain Trust, The Hidden Connection Between Mad Cow and Misdiagnosed Alzheimer’s Disease, he argues convincingly that cattle mutilations are most likely a secret operation to track the spread of mad cow disease and related diseases like scrapie.

This is indeed what it looks like is occurring. This is how it would happen. First, the animal would be hit with something like a tranquilizer dart, and then would be lifted into a helicopter. Then the animal would be euthanized, and key body parts would be removed and tested for the presence of certain diseases.

Kelleher states that when these mutilated cattle are found, usually the eye, tongue, anus, large intestine, and reproductive organs have been removed in clean, bloodless incisions. Research done in the 1980s and 1990s has shown that these body parts are where the highest concentration of prions (infectious agents) are found.²⁹² Elk and deer have also been found mutilated the same way cattle have been.²⁹³

Kelleher spoke to retired sheriff Tex Graves. Graves had investigated more than one hundred cattle mutilations in the state of Colorado. He said that, before the mutilations, there were always strange and silent aircraft or black helicopters in the area. He said that he had to restrain the local ranchers from shooting at the helicopters.²⁹⁴ These helicopters, flying at illegal and abnormal altitudes, would almost always appear without identifiable markings.²⁹⁵ Kelleher found evidence (such as broken legs on one mutilated cow) that indicated that the cattle were dropped to the ground from the air. One patrol officer documented cuts and abrasions around the ankles of mutilated cows. The officer seemed to think that they might have been caused by a clamp-like device that could have been used to secure the animals and lift them by means of a helicopter.²⁹⁶ Another policeman said he turned over one mutilated cow and discovered a large needle. Kelleher stated: "... cattle mutilations begin to look very much like acts of covert surveillance intended to monitor our food supply. The only rational purpose I could think of for such a monitoring operation would be to assess the level of prion infection in the nation's cattle. And the reason for the secrecy was obvious. Whoever was doing it wanted to avoid raising the alarm."²⁹⁷

The Nazca, Peru Alien Landing Strip?

In Nazca, Peru, there are famous drawings on the ground of creatures and lines. These drawings span 53 miles. They were created by Indians between 200 BC and 700 AD. But some believe that these drawings were created by aliens. Some UFO believers say that some of the very long lines on the ground represent an alien landing strip. The truth is that this “landing strip” has been proven to be a man-made construction of the ancient Indians. The same is true of the figures of creatures.

Researcher Joe Nickell of the University of Kentucky has reproduced the same ground designs which are found in Nazca, Peru, which were made by the Indians. Without aerial assistance and using only the technology that was available to the Nazca Indians, Joe reproduced the same kind of ground designs. With simple technologies, a small team of individuals could recreate, within a few days, even the largest ground designs made by the Indians. Also, contrary to the claims of several commentators, the Nazca, Peru figures can be observed from the ground. They can be seen by standing on top of the surrounding foothills.²⁹⁸

Crop Circles

Many believers in ETs think that crop circles and designs in crop fields were created by aliens. Crop circles are a modern occurrence, first appearing in large numbers in the late 1970s. They became more widely known in the late 1980s.²⁹⁹ “Initially, farmers around southern England started to find circular depressions in fields of wheat and other crops.”³⁰⁰ In 1991, two men (Doug Bower and Dave Chorley) from Southampton, England, said they had been the original designers of crop circles in England for over fifteen years. They had seen reports of UFO ground markings in Australia and decided they would have fun recreating them in England.³⁰¹

Doug Bower’s wife suspected him of committing adultery when she noticed the high number of miles being put on his car. Bower then confessed to her that he was driving around making crop circles. He and Dave Chorley then also informed a national British newspaper. Bower stated that if it had not been for his wife’s suspicions, he would have taken his crop making secret to the grave, never divulging that it was a hoax.³⁰² Crop circle making has now become a popular art form. There is a group called Circle Makers (circlemakers.org) which designs complex circle designs in crop fields. They have even been paid by companies to advertize their products with crop circles. Their clients to date include BP, Microsoft, Nike, Shredded Wheat, Pepsi, the BBC, NBC, the History Channel, the Discovery Channel, and others.³⁰³

While most of the crop circles are certainly man-made, the Circle Makers group has found that, while making these crop circles, strange supernatural things seem to happen.³⁰⁴ They have taken photos while working on the crop circles. Sometimes, when they are developed, UFOs have appeared in the photos. This can be seen on their website. Thus, in this case, we have UFOs not being seen by human eyes, but appearing only in the photos. This is strikingly similar to some people who have claimed to have been abducted by aliens. “There have been [UFO] contactees who, at the behest of ‘aliens,’ took photographs of scenes in which nothing unusual was visible, but when the photos were developed, UFOs appeared in the pictures! This phenomenon is basically the same as what is otherwise known as ‘spirit photography’ which originated in occult circles in England back around the year 1900.”³⁰⁵

These kinds of false signs and wonders were predicted to take place on the earth in the last days of the world. The Devil is powerless against God, and can only do what God allows him to do. However, to test the world in these last days, God has allowed the Devil to have significant power to attempt to deceive mankind. These false signs, such as UFOs, are done by demons “...according to the working of Satan with all power, signs and lying wonders” (II Thessalonians 2:9).

God wants to see if people will abandon Him and His truth to believe in lying signs and wonders. The Devil’s deceptions will influence many. We read that he “shall show great signs and wonders so as to deceive, if possible, even the elect.” (Matthew 24:24)
